Youth & Family Services

Dual Status Youth Project: Judge Jason W. Given convened a series of meetings facilitated by John A. Tuell of the RFK National Resource Center for Juvenile Justice with support from the Supreme Court of Ohio and Ohio Department of Children & Families regarding Dual Status Youth in Coshocton County.

Executive level agency and subject matter experts from community stakeholders that work with the juvenile court and child welfare systems met to review work from across the country & Ohio related to dual status youth, while considering a pathway and services for the target population and families to avoid formal adjudication with sustainable positive outcomes.

Data, Legal and Resource workgroups propose to target both Dually Identified and Dually Involved youth for this project with a 5-year lookback for child welfare involvement. We envision a multi-disciplinary approach to provide services to families and in a consistent and timely manner that fits within a prescribed legal framework. Further, recommendations and guidance for positive youth achievement & desirable systematic outcomes which can be measured is the long-term goal for our community to document program performance
