

Annual Accounting

About This Packet: The conservator must file an annual accounting showing what assets the person owns, plus all income and expenses during the year. A hearing may be required so the judge can review and approve the annual accounting.

DO NOT ATTACH BANK STATEMENTS INSTEAD OF COMPLETING THIS FORM.

NOTE: If the individual's assets are below $25,000, you may want to consider asking the judge to remove the conservatorship and allow the guardian, if appointed, to manage the person's assets. If granted, you will not have to do the annual accounting in future years.

The Individual, their Attorney, and the Relatives Have to Be Notified:

After you file the papers, you will have to send a copy to the person subject to conservatorship, their attorney, and the same relatives who were served with the original conservatorship papers.

Fill out the Paperwork: Use black ink and write clearly.

- Accounting

This form tells the judge about the individual's finances. You must list:

- The individual's assets at the beginning of the accounting period (or inventory if this is the first accounting) and the assets at the end of the accounting period; and
- The individual's income since the last accounting/inventory; and
- The individual's expenses since the last accounting/inventory.

If this is an adult conservatorship, you keep all receipts in case the judge requests them at any time after the annual accounting is filed.

- Hearing

The Court may set a hearing to review the Annual Accounting.
